(Per Havas Agency.)

Protest by Greek Government.

Fearful Storms.

Fusion of the Banks of Chile and Santiago.

The Paris Bombs.

Paris, 18th—The police have received information that it is one and the same individual who threw the bomb at President Faure and that in the Place de la Concorde. They are on the track of the criminal.

Madrid, 18th—Ex-Premier Sagasta's expected manifesto will declare that he has no desire to step into the shoes of Cánovas del Castillo.

Berlin, 18th—A circular is being sent round to railway employés and servants, urging them to a general strike.

Madrid, 18th—There was a cyclone today in Segovia that did enormous damage, and it is still raining in torrents there, some places being inundated. At Ildefonso many people were injured by the enormous hailstones, and panic seized the inhabitants. In the rural districts many peasants' huts have been flooded, their furniture washed away, and their flocks drowned.

Paris, 18th—The Prince of Napies visited President Faure at the Elysée Palace to-day at 3 p.m. and the interview was most cordial. Immediately afterwards the President returned the Prince's visit at the Italian Embassy. The interview in the Elysée lasted for 25 minutes. The Prince was in civilian dress and drove to the Palace in the landau of the Embassy. A guard of troops at the entrance paid him the usual honours.

Marseilles, 18th—The Italians working in the Arles salt mines have been dismissed to prevent a threatened renewal of the disturbances.

Valparaiso, 18th—The Bank of Santiago is to be liquidated by the Bank of Chile. Serious commercial disasters are feared owing to the stoppage of the former.

Paris, 18th—Generals Davoust and Hagron left to-day for London to represent France at the Queen's Jubilee.

Rome, 18th—The Deputies are still discussing the estimates of the Home Office, the Opposition members obstructing. Premier Rudini vigorously defended the decentralization policy of the Government, the majority of the House and the public in the galleries loudly applauding his speech.

Paris, 18th—Count Tornielli Brusati, the Italian Ambassador, gave a banquet in the Embassy to-night to the Prince and Princess of Naples, Premier Meline, M. Hanotaux, Minister of Foreign Affairs, and other high personages were present.

Berlin, 18th—The North German Gazette says that the rumours of changes in the Imperial Cabinet are, at least for the present, premature.

Paris, 18th—There was a violent storm in the western part of this city to-day, several persons being seriously injured and houses damaged. The storm is now abating.

London, 18th—The series of bankruptcies in Buenos Aires is seriously impressing the Boards of Directors here of banks in that city. It is feared that this bad situation will also prove harmful to the Revenue.

Rome, 18th—Several opposition papers attack Government on account of the trip of the Prince and Princess of Naples to Paris, which they consider to be an act of submission to France. Government organs defend the friendly policy pursued by the Cabinet. L'Opinione, a Government organ, holds that Italy's chief aim should be to become more friendly with those countries which foment her commerce.

London 18th—The Governor of Lourenço Marquez has telegraphed to President Krueger assuring him that no arms destined for British establishments on the frontier have passed through Portuguese territory, and promising him moreover that he will not permit any hostile act towards the Transvaal.

London, 18th—Five of the detachments of Colonial troops sent here to take part in the Jubilee Fetes went through a series of manœuvres this morniug opposite Chelsea Barracks. Over ten thousand people were present and applauded the precision with which the troops went through drill.

Paris, 18th—The Prince and Princess of Naples arrived here this afternoon and were met at the station by Count Tornielli the Italian Ambassador. The Prince of Naples will visit President Faure this afternoon, leaving to-morrow for London.

THIS MORNING'S TELEGRAMS.

(Received after Midnight)

Paris, 18th—The severe storm which raged this afternoon caused considerable damage in the Nanterre and Saint Denis districts, and especially in Asnières. Two deaths are reported and 20 or more persons were injured.

Milan, 18th—The great composer Giuseppi Verdi is seriously ill. Owing to his advanced age but small hopes are entertained of his recovery.

Cologne, 18th—The Emperor unveiled here to-day a statue to his grandfather William I. His Majesty was cheered by a part of the crowd present.

Valparaiso, 18th—It is just announced that the Banks of Chile and Santiago have arranged to become one, on the strength of the soundness of the bills held by the latter institution.

Athens, 18th—The Minister for Foreign Affairs has presented to the Ambassadors of the Powers a protest against the violation of the neutral zone and the excesses committed by the Turks in the Greek Provinces occupied by them.

SCOTCHMEN IN THE PLATE.

One might suppose that the history of the Scotch community here, some of whose pioneers are still hale and hearty in our midst, would be a light task to the writer, since, in the comparatively recent record, he could follow, if not day by day, at least week for week, the march of events and give a faithful picture of the growth of the Scotch colony from the day the first Scotchman landed on these shores. We fancy we could follow that Scotchman from the moment he left his ship in the Roads of the River Plate, jumped into a whaleboat, thence into a boat and finally into a cart to alight amongst the washerwomen on the beach under the guns of the old Fort—to-day the Casa Rosada or Government House. We could trace him from his lodging-house in this city to his farm in Monte Grande, or to his "puesto" in Chascomus or San Vicente, and in his career truthfully embody the vicissitudes of his community without missing a single link in the chain that stretches from 1806 to date. In theory this looks simple enough and reminds one forcibly of Sarmiento's hypothetical way of making history and writing it, but in stern practice the writer who wishes to pen a faithful and unvarnished record of the Scotch Settlers in the Plate finds insuperable difficulties.

We are led to these remarks after reading with unflagging interest the charming book of Mr. James Dodds, "Records of the Scottish settlers in the River Plate and their churches." With the true spirit of our age, the writer cannot help introducing himself with a plea of literary inability to do justice to the theme, and the inevitable appeal to the indulgence of the reader. Both plea and appeal are uncalled for, for though the writer has not sung with nymphs of Solyma, nor has drunk deep of the Pierian Spring, he shows in every chapter some of the divine afflatus of his great native bard and of Tommy Moore. His Records are timely and deal with a subject intensely interesting to all, for Scotchmen play an important part as factors in the growth and progress of this country,

It was not till Canning called forth a New World to redress the balance of the Old World that Scotchmen came in any numbers to the Plate. Making due allowance for the mercantile enterprise of John and William Parish Robertson from 1808 to 1825, we may say that Scotch history in the Plate begins with the latter date, when the Monte Grande Scotch colony was started under the capital of Parish Robertson, and under the auspices of Rivadavia. No more fatal epoch could have been chosen for such an attempt to start 250 Scotchmen, whether at the gates of Buenos Ayres, or, as originally intended, but fortunately afterwards abandoned, on the frontier of the province. The break-up of the Monte Grande colony after the resignation of Rivadavia, the ruin of Parish Robertson, and the scattering of the Scotch pioneers, were but a natural result of the political chaos that shrouded the country. To the present day, the historical student is puzzled at the vicissitudes of those dark days whose gloom found a climax in the tryanny of Rosas. Whilst so-called Unitarians fought for Federation, Federals fought for Unitarism—chaos! In the civil strife Paraguay, the Banda Oriental, the four provinces of Alto Peru were lost to Argentina, and cut-throats stalked over the breadth and length of the country.

The happy farmers of Monte Grande were driven from their homes; some settled in the city, the majority in the camp—but all laid the corner-stone to fortunes in the midst of chaos and blood. It is here that Mr. Dodds finds the Record lost in what might be termed the mist of ages, and the links in the chain are wanting. The publication of his book may bring forward these missing links, for there must be still a few alive in our midst who remember that dark period and its actors. We appeal to them to supply the documents and the information that are wanting to complete these interesting records.

One thing is certain—the scattering of the Monte Grande colony was a blessing in disguise, and the writer acknowledges the historical fact. Disaster brought forth all the energies of the race, and we see the result to-day in the splendid Scotch estancias of the South, in the monuments in our central streets, in the power and influence of the Scotch community. The delightful excerpts that Mr. Dodds publishes from the "Letters on South America" and "Letters on Paraguay" (by John and William Parish Robertson) prove the indomitable energy of Scotchmen. For years the most distant outpost on the Indian frontier, on the banks of the Rio Negro, was held by two Scotchmen. Whether in Buenos Ayres, in the sharp competition of trade, or in the camp, struggling against revolutionary bands and marauding Indians, we find that Scotchmen have always come to the front.

We make these statements, as the author of the Records of Scottish Settlers in the River Plate, being a Scotchman, has not dwelt on this particular phase of the progress of the Scotch community—he has left the complimentary task to others, limiting his praise to the religious and moral qualities of his countrymen, which are, no doubt, the great lever of their success and popularity in all climes and in all latitudes. And here we come to the embodiment of those records in the history of the Scotch churches. This is a subject we leave to the talented pens of Padre Smith and the Rev. J. W. Fleming, but we cannot disguise the fact that the religious clanship is the secret of the progress and power of the community, and it is only logical that the history of the colony should be intimately interwoven with that of its pastors. To our knowledge this is the only leadership to which Scotchmen have bowed in this country, and the men who have been called to that high, moral position have one and all been distinguished by great character and energy and sterling virtues. No man in the Plate has made Scotchmen more beloved than the venerable gentleman, whose name, even among the Indian tribes, is a household word as "Padre" Smith; he in himself is the living history of Scotchmen here since 1851.

We must cut the review short Mr. James Dodds may rest assured that he has done good service to his countrymen. Englishmen and Irishmen will read his records with the same satisfaction as Scotchmen. The STANDARD heartily congratulates him on his work, and his countrymen on the eloquent description of their indomitable progress in the River Plate.

PROGRESS OF THE UNITED STATES.

II.—MANUFACTURES.

This is by far the most important of all New England industries, and shows a rapid increase in each decennial period, the value of output having quintupled since 1850, viz.:—

	Millions dollars
	Product	Wages
1850	283	77
1890	1,499	415

The magnitude of this industry is such that, relatively to population, no European country rivals New England in manufactures; as the following table shows:—

	Million dollars	Population	Dollars per Inhbt.
New England	1,499	4,700,000	319
Great Britain	4,022	35,100,000	115
France	2,860	38,500,000	74
Germany	3,310	52,300,000	63
Belgium	566	6,400,000	88

The ratio that corresponds to New England is three times that of Great Britain, four times that of France, five times that of Germany. The relative progress, moreover, has been much greater in New England than in Great Britain, viz.:

	Million Dollars		Dollars per Inhabitant
	1850	1890	1850	1890
New England	283	1,499	104	319
Great Britain	2,285	4,022	111	115

British manufactures have done little more than keep pace with population, while those of New England show a ratio per inhabitant three times as great as in 1850. Massachusetts stands for 60 per cent. of the total, and Connecticut comes second, but with reference to population Rhode Island shows a higher ratio of manufactures per inhabitant than either of the preceding States, viz.:—

	Millions dollars	Dollars per Inhbt.
Massachusetts	838	396
Connecticut	248	333
Rhode Island	193	412
Other three States	220	160
New England	1,499	319

Textiles constitute one-fourth of the total, cottons and woollens being almost equal, and other fibres insignificant. Boot-making is also carried on to a degree that eclipses all European nations. These two industries compare with the same in Europe thus:

	Millions dollars		Dollars per Inhabitant
	Textiles	Boots	Textiles	Boots
New England	360	167	76	36
Great Britain	883	144	25	4
France	552	110	14	3
Germany	518	138	10	3

When we observe that New England turns out more boots and shoes than Great Britain, France, or Germany it is easy to understand the marvellous development of manufactures in this part of the New World. Nor is it less satisfactory to see that the wages of operatives have risen in higher ratio than the output. The number of hands employed was 313,000 in 1850, and 885,000 in 1890; the ratios of product and of wages were, therefore, as follows:—

	Dols. per operative
	1850	1890	Increase per cent
Product	903	1,694	87
Wages	246	469	91

Wages averaged in 1890 per week exactly $9, the average throughout the U. States having been $9.30; these rates are much higher than those in Europe, and as the cost of food is less, the New England operative is in a much better position than factory hands in Great Britain, France, or Germany.

RAILWAYS.

Massachusetts laid down the first railway in the New World, and in 1896 New England possessed 7,660 miles in traffic, the construction and equipment of which cost 433 million dollars. Compared with area New England has not so many miles of railway as Great Britain or France, but much more as compared with population; thus, 100,000 inhabitants have in Great Britain 52, in Germany 54, in France 56, and in New England 150 miles of railway. Nevertheless, this ratio is less than for the whole Union, which has 250 miles of line for every 100,000 souls.

BANKING.

It was ascertained in 1890 that National Banks transacted 70 per cent. other banks 30 per cent., of the total discounts. On this basis the discounts of the several States in 1894 would be as follows (as we have only returns for the National Banks in that year), and the subjoined table also shows the amount of savings banks' deposits in 1894:—

	Millions dollars		Dols. per inhabi.
	Discounts	Deposits S. B.	Discounts	Deposits S. B.
Maine	30	53	46	81
N. Hampshire	16	71	41	186
Vermont	18	28	54	84
Rhode Island	51	69	146	198
Connecticut	65	134	87	176
Massachusetts	374	400	166	178
New England	554	755	111	151

Banking is here more fully developed than in other parts of the Union, as we see in the following table (1894):—

State	Discounts millions dols.	Popultn.	Dols. per head
New England	554	5,000,000	111
Middle	1,050	15,000,000	70
South	220	20,000,000	11
West	1,026	29,000,000	35
Union	2,850	69,000,000	41

New England stands for one-fifth of the banking-power of the Union, although her population is only one-fourteenth; that is to say, each New Englander represents in banking matters as much as three ordinary American citizens. The savings banks returns afford an eloquent proof of the industrious and thrifty habits of the people, New England counting 2,082,000 depositors, equal to 42 per cent of the population, as compared with 22 per cent in Great Britain. The amount of deposits compares with the same in European countries thus:—

	Millions dols.	Dols. per inhbt.
New England	755	151
Great Britain	648	18
Prussia	850	27
France	754	19

At least two-thirds of the depositors evidently belong to the working classes, since the number of the former is equal to 63 per cent of the adult population, male and female. Hence we may conclude that the toiling millions are much better off in New England than in Europe.

ISOLATED BLANCO REBELS.

The rainy, murky weather has made things very unpleasant for the Blanco Rebels, isolated on Demarchi Island, in the Boca. The rebels are close on 400, and they are housed in tents, but as the ground has been soaked by the heavy rain, the poor fellows are simply wallowing in the mud. It is perhaps a mistake to express any commiseration for them, since their attempt to seize the Venus and Montevideo was nothing short of an outrage. On the failure of the attempt and the arrival of an Argentine gunboat, as our readers will remember, the rebels were transhipped to the floating-hospital, an unpleasant dwelling, to say the least, not only an account of its limited accommodation, but also, and we may say principally, because of the yellow-fever associations that cling round the vessel. No one felt comfortable on board the hospital, and the authorities agreed to remove the men to Demarchi Island. Here were no such unpleasant associations, but the weather has changed the place into one of Dante's hells, and then the water is bad, and many of the rebels have fallen sick. The island has been turned into an encampment: a veritable military discipline prevails. The men rise and retire at regular hours, and they are under the command of the officers or leaders. Visitors are allowed on the island, and as the rebels have many friends in Buenos Ayres, there is a continual stream of people pouring into the island. The exact number of rebels is 374; of these 70 are officers. They pass the day looking at the steamers coming in and going out, and they invariably cheer the river-boats. The Venus, the other evening, was cheered with more than usual enthusiasm.

The authorities keep the prisoners well supplied with provisions, and there is, therefore, no lack of food. Nevertheless, the rebels are sighing for their release, application for which has been filed by a leading lawyer.

HAWAII AND CUBA.

YESTERDAY'S TELEGRAMS.

The Hawaiian Annexation Treaty is not to be rushed through the Senate at once, but is to be allowed to go over till the regular session of Congress next December, so the telegrams say. However, there is no doubt that it will be approved, it being a question of how long the small minority against it can impede its passage. The New York Herald states that there are 57 Senators who will surely vote for annexation, 21 against it, and that 11 are at present doubtful. In the Senate, as in other bodies of men, there are some whose ideas are not very far-reaching, and as the Hawiian Islands are over two thousand miles out in the Pacific, and not in plain sight of the Capitol, these men find it difficult to comprehend the necessity of the United States controlling the island absolutely.

The London papers all continue to discuss the question at great length, and advance a variety of opinions. Among them, the Standard thinks the annexation will prove a veritable disaster for Japan, and the Daily Telegraph that no political complication will be provoked, because, though on the one hand, the annexation involves a far-fetched application of the Monroe doctrine, on the other, the interests of Great Britain are of a sentimental character only. The editor of the Telegraph has probably forgotten that not many months ago a British cruiser, and a merchant steamer chartered in a hurry by Hawaii, were engaged in a race to one of the islands, each steaming at her best speed to get there first and hoist the flag and take possession of the island in a manner that would leave no doubt as to its ownership. It is doubtful if this race was caused by interests of a sentimental character only. No, British interests in the islands are very real, but the Government undoubtedly recognizes that those of the United States are infinitely greater. The Globe, as usual, is inclined to view the matter more seriously than any of the other papers, and thinks the action of the American Government constitutes an abuse of confidence, if not an open violation of the treaties existing between Hawaii and other nations.

Last, but not least—as she views it—the ex-Queen has entered a formal protest with the Department of State at Washington against the annexation; in which she gives a great number of reasons why it should not take place, the principal of which being that it is in violation of international law.

* * *

Cuban telegrams state that in the town of Alquizar, a place containing 3000 inhabitants, 177 persons died of starvation and misery during the past month. The revolutionary leader, Quintin Banderas, at the head of a strong column of blacks has attacked and captured a fort near Havanna. The garrison sallied out to meet them, but after a bloody hand to hand encounter were completely annihilated. The revolutionists had only ten men killed.

The revolutionary General-in-Chief, Maximo Gomez, is about to embark on a new campaign, probably during the first days of July. He is now concentrating his forces in the province of Havanna, and it is thought that he will make a demonstration against the capital.

Another expedition of filibusters has landed in the province of Havanna, only about 15 miles from the city. We presume that this is the expedition that got away on the famous Dauntless, if so, it is evident that the Marblehead failed to overhaul her in spite of her superior speed.

The most sensational revelation as yet in connection with the Greco-Turkish war is that Edem Pasha, the victorious leader of the Moslems, is a Greek, and of Christian descent to boot!! The Westminster Gazette gives the whole story of his wonderful career.

GEROLSTEIN.

When following the tragico-comic incidents of the Oriental revolution we are forced to ask ourself whether such events are taking place in the prosaic, money-grubbing Plate, or in the joyous Duchy of Gerolstein; whether the perpetrators of them are President Borda, his subordinates and Messieurs the members of the Revolutionary Committee in this city, or Messrs. Offenbach, Lecocq and Suppé in collaboration with Euripides.

The comic note predominates in the proclamation of Gen. Nuñez announcing his withdrawal from the cause and calling the committee a lot of hard names, the endorsement of this proclamation by Col. Urtubey previous to soliciting a pardon from Borda; the continual resignations and changes of the Government Generals the abundance of cheap cattle and horses in Brazil; the wild rumors rife in the Mount to the effect that one of his Generals wired Borda to send him a coat of mail, and another canard, still more fantastic, which accused the English Club of supplying the funds for the revolution, which, if true, (as it, of course, is not) might account for the milk in the Jubilee cocoanut; the complicated diplomatic representation of little Uruguay in this country, which may lead us to expect the abduction of Don Abdon Arosteguy, just as the saltatory ambassadors in Suppé's Prince Jerusalem danced off with the sovereign to whom they were accredited.

The tragic notes are contributed by the sanguinary battle at Tres Arboles and the capture of the Uruguayan gunboat "Suarez," bloody episodes costing the lives of hundreds of brave men and utterly barren of all fruits for the victors.

Once again, on the river, we find ourselves treated to full opera bouffe, in the incidents of the famous naval engagement in Montevideo harbor, when a vessel of the Oriental navy fired on a peaceable merchant steamer, incidentally hitting two foreign men-of-war; and the spectacular, penny-dreadful, piratical seizure of the Venus and the Montevideo by bands of disguised rebels. The revolutionary committee were guilty of unpardonable negligence in failing to send a brass band on the Venus which could have struck up the Conspirators' chorus from Madame Angot at the moment the rebels pointed their fourteen revolvers at the head of Captain Murray and called upon him to "surrender or die". Then, to slow music the curtain drops for five minutes while the chief actors repair to their dressing-rooms to change their costumes, rising again to the leit-motif of the conspirators' chorus and reveals them in the full glory of brand new uniforms, drinking champagne to the success of their plot amidst hurrahs and the wild discharge of their precious cartridges in the most damn-the-expense sort of a way. Next the glorious promenade up and down in front of Buenos Aires could not be properly enjoyed without a band; the long and weary wait for Col. Smith, whom for months they have considered in Montevideo as the coming man, and, at last, the arrival of the little Gaviota which took all the truants back to school; half the enjoyment of all this was lost for want of music!

But there is a serious side to these two incidents which, in the general hilarity, none of our colleagues seem to have noted. In the naval action in Montevideo harbor the excited firing of the Oriental navy plumped several shots into the English and Italian warships lying quietly at anchor. Fortunately no one was hit on either vessel, though one shot passed through a space which a short time previously had been occupied by the head of the secretary of the English Captain. Both captains had taken measures, in case any of their men had been hit, to administer to the Oriental boat a lesson which she would not have forgotten long after being pumped up by Lussich from the bottom of the bay.

In regard to the seizure of the Venus and Montevideo, on which there were many women and children as passengers, suppose that one of the Oriental gunboats, at present patrolling the river, had happened to come along and act with equal precipitancy as in the other affair, and had fired into these steamers immediately and sunk them, as might easily have been done with a couple of shots, or caused the explosion of the various cases of ammunition put on board by the rebels. The results are frightful to imagine! No! In face of the possibility of such a horrible tragedy, that only a mere chance prevented from becoming a reality, it is high time for some civilized power, or powers, either South American of foreign, to put a stop to this revolution, which offers no promise of ending before Uruguay is completely ruined and bankrupt in money, credit, and hopes.

It is by no means my intention to ridicule brave men who risk and lose their lives in wartare waged in pursuit of a political ideal, but I emphatically condemn such opera bouffe proceedings as the direction of the revolution has too often offered as a contribution to the laughter of gods and men.

Stand-by O'Gorman.

SOCIAL CHANGES OF SIXTY YEARS.

There is a very delightful paper in the April Nineteeth Century by Sir Algernon West on some changes in social life during the Queen's reign. Sir Algernon, who tells us that when he was six years old he ran a race with the great Duke of Wellington from Walmer Church to the Castle, has much that is most interesting to say concerning the manners and customs of bygone days.

In nothing has there been a greater change during the reign than in attire. That for women has varied "from the poke bonnet and the spoon bonnet, the white cotton stockings and the sandalled shoes, through the cage period to the pretty fashions of the present day." But it is of the male garb that Sir Algernon West writes:

In the early days of her Majesty's reign Peers drove down to the House of Lords in full dress, with their orders and ribbons, and Bishops wore episcopal wigs; Bishop Blomfield, who died in 1857, being the last to do so. Lord Strafford recollected seeing his uncle, the famous George Byng, M.P. for Middlesex, going down to the House of Commons dressed in tights and black silk stockings; and Disraeli tells us how Lord George Bentinck on one occasion attended in boots and breeches, his red coat partially hidden under what was called a surtout. Hessian boots were common; the last man to wear them was Mr. Stephenson, a Commissioner of Excise, well known in London society, who were them to the day of his death in 1858. It was not till 1867 that members came down, to the horror of Mr. Speaker Denison, in pot hats and shooting coats. And now, in 1897, Cabinet Ministers ride to their Parliamentary duties on bicycles in anything, but full dress.

When Queen Victoria came to the throne the old watchmen with their rattles and drab grey coats existed in provincial towns, and parish beadles, as depicted in "Oliver Twist," still flourished in their large cocked hats, their gold-embroidered coats, and pink breeches.

Sir Algernon seems to lament the good old times when friends always walked arm-in-arm, and the country neighbour always made his entry into a party arm-in-arm with his wife and daughter. Now the fashion has disappeared, and there has sprung up "an indiscriminate handshaking morning and evening." The talk at dinner, too, has changed:

Lady Granville once remarked that, in her younger days, nobody in polite society ever mentioned their poverty or their digestion, and now they had become the principal topics of conversation; and if Society was then vigilant in ignoring all allusion to money and commerce, we have now gone far in the contrary direction. Everybody quotes the prices of stocks and shares, and I have lived to see the day when a youthful scion of a noble and distinguished house produced from his pocket at dinner a sample bundle of silks, to show how cheaply they could be bought at his establishment!

With the old customs notorious wits like Sydney Smith, Jekyll, Luttrel, Bernal Osborne have disappeared, the last survivor having been Dr. Quin, the advocate of homœopathy. "I met him", says Sir Algernoon, "one night at Lady Craven's. I had a bad headache, and Lady Craven, much against my will, asked him what I should take.

Great changes in dinners occurred during the forties. Formerly a couple of chickens with white sauce and tongue in the middle was a necessity, and led to various conventional compliments as to whether the hostess or her neighbour should carve them. But it cannot be said that the changes which have taken place have been for the worse:

Sir David Dundas used to tell of a chicken being launched on his lap, and the lady with a sweet smile saying: "Would you kindly give me back that chicken?"

The champagne was only handed round after the second course, and was drunk in homœopathic doses out of small tubes of glass which contained little but froth. Lord Alvanley was the first who had courage to protest, saying: "You might as well expect us to drink our wine out of thermometers." After dinner the cloth was removed, and the wine and dessert put on a shining mahogany table. The Bishop of Oxford at Cuddesdon used to drink the health of each candidate for holy orders; but as he did not like drinking so much himself, he always kept by him a bottle of toast and water. On one occasion a bumptious young man, on being asked what wine he would have, replied, "A little of your lordship's bottle, if you please", thinking to get something of superior excellence. "Take my bottle to him," said the Bishop to his butler.

Breakfasting out has now disappeared, but "notwithstanding Disraeli's assertion that to breakfast out was a plebeian amusement, Mr. Gladstone," Sir Algernon tells us, "continued his breakfasts on Thursdays till he left Harley-street in 1880."

One of the most remarkable changes of manners noted has been that familiarities have taken the place of formalities. Few ladies in Sir Algernon's young days addressed their husbands by their Christian names:

A friend of mine, Gerald Ponsonby, dining with Lady Jersey, heard her say that she never recollected her father, Lord Westmoreland, though specially attached to his sister, Lady Lonsdale, call her anything but Lady Lonsdale; and Henry Greville, who was present at the same dinner, said he remembered his mother, Lady Charlotte, and her brother, the Duke of Portland, meeting in the morning at Welbeck, and saying "How is your ladyship this morning?" and her replying with all solemnity, "I am quite well, I am obliged to your Grace." All shopkeepers are now "young gentlemen" and "young ladies". The Duchess of Somerset, on making inquiry about something she had purchased at Swan and Edgar's, was asked if she had been served by a young gentleman with fair hair. "No," she said meditatively, "I think it was by an elderly nobleman with a bald head."

Photography early in the fifties was in its infancy. The witty Lady Morley used to say, in reply to any complaint of the dulness of the weather, "What can you expect, when the sun is busy all day taking likenesses in Regent-street?".

To the many changes for the better which Sir Algernon West mentions as having taken place in sixty years we cannot refer at length. 'Morals in the main have improved, the number of convicts has enormously decreased, public executions have been abolished, lunatics are much better treated, women have been protected in dangerous trades, the health of the people is cared for, picture galleries have been instituted, parks thrown open, and much else has been done for the welfare of the people generally. Besides:

Men's morals, and certainly their language, have improved, excessive drinking has become unfashionable and almost unknown in the society of gentlemen, cigars and cigarettes have replaced the filthy habit of taking snuff, night-caps and stuffy four-posters and sweltering feather beds have been replaced by fresh air and tubs, and electricity has snuffed out cotton-wicked candles and rid us of tinder-boxes, and may ere long rid us of gas. Everybody is clean, and it would be difficult to find a man or woman in society who is not engaged in some good and useful work, or some endeavour to help others in the sorrows and struggles of life.

There are still many social problems to be solved, but Sir Algernon West thinks he sees a vision of the glories to be accomplished in succeeding generations, and he cherishes a faith "which is large in time, and that which shapes it to some perfect end."

This fine old world of ours, is but a child
Yet in its go-cart—Patience give it time
To learn its limbs—there is a hand that guides.

The Jubilee In Montevideo.

Montevideo, June 17th 1897.

Sir,

The Montevideo Times calls you to account to-day for a mistaken rendering of a telegram relating to the Diamond Jubilee subscriptions here.

The Editor of that paper has rushed in He is supposed to know a little of Shakespeare, and Shakespeare has given such "rushes" if not a "Local Habitation" certainly a name.

What is the history and position of the Jubilee subscriptions?

The first meeting that was called at the Legation resolved unanimously to erect a Rood Screen in the English Church to, commemorate the event with a corresponding Brass.

Everyone was taken by surprise. Nobody knew exactly what a Rood Screen might be. Dictionaries were ransacked and even then there was a vacuum; but a protest was made. Those who conformed dissented. A second meeting was held, the original proposal was rejected, and it was resolved to build a "Victoria Hall" and to give an entertainment.

For the Hall, which cannot cost less than $25,000 gold, up to the present not $2000 have been subscribed. The chance of a hall ever being built is more than remote. The entertainment is announced for next Tuesday. All English under 14 years are to be admitted free, others at $1 a head, to include refreshments. What can be done at that price?

In the meantime the Committee of the English Club started a subscription for a suitable memorial in the Club to commemorate the Diamond Jubilee. The leading representatives of English society, bankers, merchants, railway officials etc. have subscribed one dollar each, and this suitable recognition of the most glorious reign now stands at a little over $60!!

Again the English Chaplain comes to the front. He has given up the "Rood" for a Chancel Screen which he wishes to erect as a memorial. As the Templo Inglés has no chancel, only a hole in the wall—not bad as far as it goes—for the Communion Table, the proposal is a fad, if not farcical.

That is how we stand. Neither more nor less—these are the facts "which nobody can deny."

Yours faithfully,

A Briton.

I enclose my card.

THE LATE MR. JOHN CUNNINGHAM.

In the death of Mr. John Cunningham of Arrecifes, which took place in the Hotel de France of this city on the 10th inst, Irish Porteño society has lost a young man of most estimable character. Being of a retiring disposition he was not very widely known, but was highly esteemed by his relatives and friends who knew him in childhood and youth. It was during the six weeks, painful illness preceding his death that the noble dispositions of his soul became more pronouncedly manifest. Suffering is the ordeal which, whilst purifying the soul, brings out the sterling qualities it may possess. It is the silent endurance of severe pain that discovers its Christian patience and fortitude, and the effort to be genial, even while suffering, its Christian self denial. Those who visited and observed poor John were deeply impressed by his practice of these virtues of Christian manliness, all softened by his charitable consideration for others. Even when poor, spent nature could no longer contain itself under the pressure of pain, it was evident he strove to suppress it, he lest should cause additional grief to the loved ones present. The memory of Christ and his sufferings on the Cross principally occupied his mind, and he desired to suffer and to die, resigned and obedient, like Christ, to the Father's will. With reason then can those who mourn his death take consolation from the consciousness that it found him so well prepared.

RAILWAY AND OTHER ITEMS.

The Russian Government, which recently contracted for 500 locomotives for the Government railways wishes to place orders far 200 more but his hesitating to do so as the home shops are crowded with work and the government does not care to go outside Russia for any more locomotives if it is not absolutely necessary.

Dear STANDARD,

I hear that the General Manager of Great Southern Railway has given orders that all English drivers and firemen that can be spared on the day of the Queen's Jubilee be granted that day off. Why not treat the English workmen of Sola the same.

I remain,

Yours truly,

One of the boilers.

THEATRES AND AMUSEMENTS.

Frank Brown takes his benefit on Wednesday next the 23rd inst. This is always the night of the season, and the popular Frank never lets it pass without presenting something in the shape of novelty. On this occasion there will be more than one, and he himself has one that will surprise the audience.

The benefit to the Musto family last night, was everything that could be desired. The charming sisters in their double trapeze act were greatly applauded and received same handsome presents. Mdme. Musto was also well received with her clever cockatoos and was afterwards presented with a very handsome tea set, in addition to which a large number of baskets of flowers were handed to all the three ladies.

There was a very large attendance at the Skating Rink last night, and the floor was covered with skaters. On Sundays and feast days there are always two performances, and at that in the afternoon, there are races for the little ones, for which various prizes are given.

LA PLATA.

(From our own Correspondent)

June 18th.

The Chamber of Deputies met to-day and passed in general the Bill authorizing the Executive to spend $25,000 in the purchase of dredges for the port. Also the Bill reducing the tariffs in the port. The Bill granting a plot of ground and $10,000 to the Conference of St. Vincent de Paul for an orphanage was finally voted.

The Assessor "ad hoc", Dr. Roque Saenz Peña has sent in his report on the case raised by Mr. Crotti and others as to the Drainage of the South Zone Law being unconstitutional. The report fills 120 pages, and makes out that the Law in question is perfectly valid.

Government has extended the time for payment of patentes without fine to the 15th prox. for "negocios fijos". That for paying Contribucion Directa expires on 30th inst.

The School Inspectors have been ordered to at once start on their rounds through the province.

There was a fire in the 'galpones' on Mr. Abraham Zalazar's estancia on Saturday. Damage $15,000.

JUBILEE NOTICES.

Barracas is not behind in doing honour to-morrow (Sunday) in religiously commemorating the long and glorious reign of Queen Victoria. A splendid service we hear is being arranged in the English Institute. It is to be chorally rendered and will be signalized by the introduction for the first time of a surpliced choir. The National Anthem will be sung in procession, and there will be a special Anthem. The Revd. Thomas Wilkes will preach.

Of the service at St. John's we need say next to nothing because it is already well known that all the arrangements have been so planned as to give the greatest possible dignity to a service which is quite unique, both here and in its occasion in the history of the reign of Her Majesty.

The British community is to be represented by Her Britannic Majesty's Minister and Consul, the President, or his representative, of this Republic, and representatives from numerous representatives of Nations, who desire thus to express the universal regard in which the Queen of England and Empress of India is held throughout the world. Both of the English Services will be represented also, and a guard of honour from H.M.S. Beagle will be formed under the portics of the Church, which, it is interesting to remember, is the oldest British institution established in this Capital.

THE PROPOSED HOLIDAY

Buenos Aires, 18th.

Dear STANDARD,

Referring to the letter which appeared in your edition of Sunday from the Jubilee Committee in re employers allowing their clerks a holiday on the 22nd inst., don't you think it would be just as well were you to open a list, so that houses wishing to give their clerks a holiday on that day could send in their names, as was done on the occasion of the Duke of York's wedding.

Yours truly,

Subscriber.

Ed. Note—We are quite willing to follow our Subscriber's suggestion.

The following will be the order of service for the Jubilee Thanksgiving in the American Church, 718 Corrientes, on Sunday June 20th, 1897, 11 a.m.:—

A number of Army officers will be present for the service, and every arrangement will be made to make the proceedings enjoyable, and worthy of the occasion. We understand any visitors who may desire to attend the "funcion" will be welcome.

EDITOR'S TABLE.

Although the weather was of the "dismal Jemmy" order yesterday, people in general were in a jubilant and Jubilee frame of mind. (By the by, there is a worthy Israelite in town whose familiar name with his friends is Billy, and they are making most injewdicious puns on it in connection with the Jubilee (Jew Billy). There was a good deal of general news, rumour and gossip buzzing round. All the Chilians in town turned as pale as boiled turkeys at the news of the smash of the Bank of Santiago, the great Conservative private bank there; and a general financial and commercial "krach" is expected there. The defeat of that redoubtable hero Villar by Lamas and Saraiva was confirmed. From mighty and overcrowded London the news is that our friends there consider us rather up a tree here in a commercial sense and are afraid of a fall in "Argentines" in Capel Court. There was nothing very new about Greece, Turkey, or the Powers. His Sublimity is supposed to be gradually yielding to the terms of peace; but the Turks are to be feared even more than the Greeks when "making presents."

There was another Lottery yesterday, and the holders of the following numbers have enough in their pockets to enable them to celebrate the Queen's Jubilee to their entire satisfaction:—7127, $50,000; 10486, $5,000; 5589, 5,000; 12877, 17176, 2672, $2000; 20093, 7478, 18253, 19650, 12485, 7752, 6496, $1000; 4509, 21631, 7067, 70079, 11177, 10685, 15791, 4054, 1625, 6972, 6348, 10453, 11119, 22309, 21975, 19396, 17325, 8259, 5841, 17521, 9152, $500; 2125, 7013, 7334, 11494, 15156, 17367, 21108, 5708, 16960, 2981, 17361, 17400, 21065, 22306, 2014, 6353, 11610, 13955, 18799, 21961, 3854, 20330, 22151, 18954, 14760, 21910, 15568, 20609, 9576, 2512.

The Catholic Total Abstinence Society will celebrate the anniversary of its foundation on Monday next (21st) with a grand ball that will attract all the English-speaking votaries of cold water and hot tea in town. Each ticket admits one gentleman and two ladies, and only costs $6.

Major Pearce, of the Salvation Army, who has just returned from Uruguay, begs us to explain a statement made by us the other day, when we said that of the 1768 beds supplied by the Army during the month of May, the great majority had been paid for by the Benevolent Society. This is not the case: as a matter of fact 206 beds were paid by the B.B. Society, and the remainder were disposed of directly by the Army, in a great number of cases free. However, we cannot plead guilty to inaccuracy as the assertion was made by one of the Army.

We hear that President Borda intends to pardon one of the repentant rebel colonels, a genuine Oriental, to judge by his name, Urtu Bey, at the request of that officer's fellow townsmen. Speaking of Oriental affairs, Borda, would save money and worry if he would make a contract at a fixed price, no cure no pay, with his cousin, Abdul Hamid, to secure the services of Edhem Pacha and a couple of thousand Bachi-bazouks to put an end to the revolution, now that that doughty leader, having settled the Greeks, is out of a job.

We have a telegram in this office for Mr. Rafael Lamadrid.

The news about the international muddle with B.O., last night was that it is all settled. The Argentine Minister to Uruguay Dr. Paz and the B.O.F.A. Minister Dr. Hordeñana had a palaver about it yesterday and came to a "brother-we-are-both-in-the-wrong, agreement. The men who violated Argentine territory will be punished, and the searching of Argentine or other suspected ships in the river will be courteously done. Dr. Paz expressed himself satisfied, and President Uriburu and Dr. Alcorta have put "Aprobado" at the foot of it. So ends this farcical history.

The wedding of Mr. Marrs and Miss Foster took place yesterday at Las Flores. The Revd. Mr. McNeil tied the nuptial knot. After the ceremony there was a sumptuous dejeuner, at which the happy couple's health was drunk enthusiastically. In the afternoon the newly married pair left for their estancia to pass the honeymoon, which we hope will be life-long.

The National Deputies no-quoed yesterday again. Splendid!

The rehearsal last night for the Jubilee Promenade Concert went off splendidly and it promises to be a thundering success. The Lomas contingent came out strong, also the Choral Union. There will be no more rehearsals, and all concerned are earnestly requested to practise their parts in private between this and the 22d.

Now ladies, please let us know on your nicest perfumed note-paper your candid opinion of this new departure by your lovely sisters in the capital of Chile. A good many papas there in high life consider that the theatrical performances there are much the reverse of edifying, and object to their wives and daughters attending them, so they propose that a League be formed by a certain number of families who will bind themselves not to go to the theatres, and will subscribe $25 each for a "temporada" of 15 balls, bachelors paying $10 each. At these balls the utmost simplicity of dress is to be observed (cotton we suppose) and anything in the "decolletée" line, even the slightest approach to it, is forbidden as a sinful horror. As for the supper, it must be limited to tea, coffee, chocolate and biscuits! Well, fair readers, what do you think about this precious kind of ball?

The Southern Cross, in an able article, says there are 6000 agricultural hands unemployed and starving in Santa Fe owing to the loss of crops, and suggests that the National Government should turn a pitying eye on them, and give them employment on the Bahia Blanca military port and other public works declared indispensable by Congress in spite of the hard-up condition of the Treasury. An excellent suggestion, as these starving men are all recently arrived emigrants from Europe, and will send home such direful accounts of the country as will seriously affect the Immigration returns.

Our sedate London colleague The Lancet now and then relaxes into a humourous grin. Here is one:—"Men are supposed to be somewhat indifferent as to plainness of feature in themselves, but a correspondent who seems to be of the male sex writes to the Lancet inquiring whether there are no surgical means by which his facial appearance could be improved. He has an ugly nose, which is "thick and round at the tip," and parts of it get red in cold weather; his lips are "thick and clumsy," and his chin is "very receding, and rather dragged to one side." He wonders whether by slicing a bit off here, and engrafting a bit of bone, flesh, or skin there, something of the "chiselled" character could not be imparted to his features. He is "particularly dissatisfied" with these as they are, and is quite ready to suffer considerable pain and run a fair amount of risk to have them rectified. The writer has probably been reading Hugo's "L'homme qui Rit" and concludes that "fantastic surgery" might as well be applied to improve the human face as to deform it. The editor of the Lancet apologises for inserting the letter on the ground that "it appeals to our sense of humour."

Of course they never tell lies in Broadbrun City, otherwise, we should hesitate to believe the following paragraph from that Quakers' head centre:—"A remarkable experiment with the x rays is reported from Philadelphia. A "museum freak" named Harrison, whose speciality is the swallowing of iron nails and similar substances, and who is known as the "human ostrich," offered himself as a subject. In the presence of Dr. Goodspeed, of the University of Pennsylvania, Harrison swallowed one morning 26 tacks, a half-inch copper rivet, one 22-calibre cartridge, seven threepenny nails, one one-inch screw, the head halves of two tenpenny nails, two one-inch fragments of a hack saw, and one two-inch screw. In the evening shortly before the x rays were applied, Harrison gulped down 12 more six-ounces tacks, one thumb-screw, and one No. 8 screw. The radiograph was taken while the young man was lying face downwards, and clearly revealed the mass of metal in the stomach, occupying a crescent-shaped sac near the ilium, and showing denser than the bones."

25 DE MAYO 112

The Jubilee is drawing very near now, and, wherever there are a dozen Britishers or even half a dozen, they make an effort to celebrate it. At Junin they have organized a grand Children's Fete for the 22nd. Athletic sports and games of all kinds, with prizes; also Tug of War, sack races, and three-legged races for men. Then, in the evening there will be a Christy Minstrel performance, a farce, and a ball, so our fellow countrymen at Junin mean to make rather a jolly day of it.

The other day in Hungary a lady asked for divorce. Her complaint was—"My husband has two sorts of eyes, and I cannot look him in the face." The lady went on to say, "One of his eyes is blue and one is black, and I find I can't love him with eyes like that."

We feel much indebted for the kind invitation sent us by the Israelite Congregation to attend the laying of the foundation stone of their new Temple at 785 Calle Libertad. The very interesting ceremony will take place to-morrow at 1 p. m.

More music! Another "Washington Post March", by J. P. Sousa, kindly sent to us by Mr. Neumann, the well known music editor at 428 Calle Florida. If we backslide in our daily strum on the piano, it will, certainly, not be the fault of our music-selling friends, who have been unusually kind to us of late.

The Lord Mayor has decided to establish the electric light and douse the gas lamps in all the central streets between Lavalle and Victoria, and San Martin and Cerrito; also in Artes up to Juncal, and in Buen Orden, Peru and Defensa to Independencia. This will be a splendid improvement: but we hope the wires will be put underground, otherwise we prefer the gas to the chance of being electrocuted some fine night by the melting and snapping of an overhead wire.

There must be something in the rumour that Corrientes is in for a "chirinada" of the bad old kind, as the National Government has decided to give Governor Virasoro 500 Remingtons and 50,000 cartridges, with which H. E. guarantees to make life tolerably unpleasant for those patriots who may try to disturb order in his province. The gallant Governor has done this before in tip-top style, so may be trusted to do it again.

As we said the other day, if we were to publish one quarter of the communications and suggestions (some of them of the most amusing kind from their extravagance) we have received about the Jubilee, we should inevitably drive every member of the Committee, and, perhaps, half the British community also, stark, staring mad with perplexity and wonder, so we have decided to shut the door on the prodigious pile of them on our table. We make a last exception, however, for the following (it is only part of his letter) from our old friend Mr. W. Corrales:—"The fortuitous circumstances that brought her Majesty to the throne, must be considered as a work of Divine Providence, for had not Princess Charlotte died in her accouchement, what changes would have been produced in the standing of the present Royal family, allied as they are to-day by consanguinity and marriages to some of the most powerful nations of Europe. This reminds me we are in possession of the likeness of the Princess Charlotte as a child: there are only two extant taken from life, one is in the Royal collection of Her Majesty, and the other in our possession, painted by the same artist, which can be proved by letters in her own handwriting sent from Warwick Castle. Many reminiscences are recorded of her: the following is a coincidence between her and the letter C.

Her mother's name was Caroline.

Her own name Charlotte.

She was married to a Coburg.

Her likeness was taken in Childhood.

The Dr attending her accouchement was Clifton.

Yours truly

W. J. Corrales.

What does our guide, philosopher and friend the M. V. T. mean by pestering us about our $60 clerical error in mixing up the Jubilee Funds? We have already explained it with tears of repentance in our eyes by day, and have had to wring out our pillow every morning since it occurred, so copious has been our weeping during sleepless nights. What more would you have, colleague? Do you suggest that we should commit suicide, or give our body to be burned? We won't.

Special Notice.

On Sunday there will be no morning Service in the Scotch Church, as the Congregation will unite with the English Church.

No Evening Service will be held at Barracas. There will be, however, a Morning Service at Campana and an Afternoon Service at San Martin. In the Evening at 8 p.m. the United Service will be held in St. Andrew's Church. The Sermon will be preached by the Rev. Pelham Ogle. It is hoped that in deference to the united and national character of the service seatholders will allow their sittings to be considered free on his occasion. The collection in the evening will be in aid of the Building Fund of the New Sailor's Home to be erected in commemoration of the Diamond Jubilee.

The River Plate will never go ablaze over the business that is doing at present, and as there is a heavy, tough, impenetrable lethargy sagging the market, there seems to be little prospect of any awakening for some time. Things go mooning along; there is always something doing in exports and imports, in exchange, produce, real-estate; but as for business, as people understand it, when there is a fine, bracing, sou-wester stirring up the depths and curling the waves—that kind of business has disappeared. Gold keeps hanging on at 295 in devil-may-care indifference, the flare-up of 10 or 20 cents in one hour being contracted by a dizzy drop of 20 or 30 cents in the next, and so everything is hopelessly stagnant, flagging and dull. Stocks are no better, rather worse, as, with money tight, half the operations posted are 'gatos' and the other half of no importance. If anything can beat this for steady inertia, perhaps we shall get to it later on. People keep on speculating as to when the turn is likely to set in, some opining with the advent of spring, which will shew up the prospects of the harvest, others anticipating a discounting movement on the proclamation of General Roca as National Candidate, from which it would seem that, more or less about August, things should begin to pick up again. Not that the situation is very bad; very much worse it might be without much difficulty or such a qualification being applicable, as, except for a squeeze, there is not much wrong, but when business hangs everyone grumbles on principle. Now our neighbours over the ridge—they have got a first-chop economic crisis brewing, but the Plate, no: a couple of months of heavy stagnation is all that we have to face.

The gold business at the first hour was a mere make-believe one, a little over half a million dollars being posted to save appearances. The price cash opened at 294,70, swooped down to 294,60, recovered in a rush to 294,80, fluctuated violently between 294,80 and 294,90, to close with a rattle at 295. There was no fever and less enthusiasm. Business on time was hardly deserving of the name, and there are few buyers. In stocks some B. Aires Ports were done at 22, though dealers say there are none to be had at that price. National G's were posted at 84, and Constructors at 4, but Catalinas were dead-and-alive at 7,70, there being very little movement in the stock since the king realized his holding and went out of the shares. Provincial Cedulas were very quiet.

The following is a summary of the business effected at the first ring to-day:—

$ 236,504 cash at 294.70-60-70-80-700-90 80-90-295.
$ 136,000 June 30th at 294.50-70-80-60 80-70-80-60-80-294.90.

$ 35,000 July 31st at 294-00-295.

It is not the state of Denmark but the economic state of Chile now that is exuding malodorous vapours, as the telegrams bring the ominous news of the failure of the Banco de Santiago, the second in Chile in importance. The news furthermore does not come as a surprise, since it has been no secret that things over the Ridge for a fair time back have been steadily going from bad to worse, and evidence of this, damnably convincing too, we had in the suspension of the Banco del Union and the move of the Government towards a Free-Banking Scheme. All this could not possibly have meant an isolated or temporary squeeze. Things were evidently driving badly with our neighbour, and the failure of the Banco de Santiago confirms this impression. What developments may now ensue will be looked forward to with much interest. Probably the Free-banking scheme will be pushed ahead, though apparently the crisis has got ahead of it, but in any event the end seems to be inevitably a return to inconversion. It is a pity. Chile made a gallant attempt to establish and maintain a decent currency, but even its best friends must fain admit that it is a poor country, naturally, at the best, which with the depression in Nitrates brought on extenuation. Perhaps also it has spent over-much in firearms for a cramped revenue. Anyhow the fact is very clear that the ship has been caught in a squall and thrown on her beam-ends, without ballast, which will make the righting all the more difficult.

In order that an accurate idea may be taken of the position of the various banks we give the following table:—

More or less about the beginning of this month we stated on the authority of a leading business man in the market, that it was the opinion of merchants in general that the thick of the crisis was past, and not much damage done, as for one responsible house that tottered, and went where the woodbine twineth and ivy climbeth, at least half a dozen or more commercial parasites resigned the ghost, purifying the ambient and relieving the strain. That the opinion was well founded is apparent from the fact that since then not a single failure of consequence has occurred, so that things are nearly as slack in bankruptcy as on' Change. It is needless to remark that it is very satisfactory to find this so, and a proof that B. Aires commerce is very solid to have got over the squeeze so easily.

Holders of Santa Fe Consols may be gratified by learning that the Governor of Holy Faith solemnly avers that under no circumstance whatsoever will the service of the Consols be suspended, and we venture to say may, because it seems strange that such a declaration should have been necessary at all. It has not been current report that the service was in peril. Why then the asseveration? Perhaps H.E.. attributing the low price of a religiously served, good interest-paying stock to apprehensions of such a contingency as suspension, has hastened to dispel all doubts. It is very good news at all events, though we imagine that the low quotation is rather due to apprehensions of a further issue of the stock than to fears of suspension, as otherwise it would be lower still. The June coupon will soon fall in, which may appraise values.

Mr. Hahn, a partner of the leading Leipzig house of Loy and Co., and a director of one of the principal banks of that city, has arrived out on a visit to the Plate, and is much impressed with the importance of Buenos Aires, which far outstrips his anticipations. He has already visited the Central Market, port, and leading commercial centres, to form an idea of our export and import trade, and intends making a trip through provinces of B. Aires, Santa Fe, Entre. Rios, and Cordoba, to complete his range of observation and study, which will most probably result in the investment of important capital in this country. We have much pleasure in welcoming bankers of any nationality to the Plate, and especially our Berlin, Frankfurt and Leipzig friends, the Metternichs of the day. The more the merrier, and we can safely guarantee them that the more they see of Argentina the better they will like her.

There was nothing much doing in exchange to-day, though bills were passed, and at firm rates. We quote—

London 47 15/16d.
Paris 5.01 fcs.
Antwerp 5.02 ½ fcs.
Hamburg 4.08 mks.

The Rio rate is cabled weaker at 7 9/16d. Discounts are reported unaltered at 5 ½ to 6 ½ gold and 7 to 7 ½ % paper.

According to to-day's commercial cables the Combed B wool in Antwerp has improved to 3.92 ½ fcs. Fundings are weaker at 87, and linseed and maize are quoted at 29s. and 13s. respectively.

The sales in the produce markets this morning embraced:—

280,000 kilos maize.
428,000 " wheat.

Rosario advices report the last lot of seed by the Commission now purchased, and the business closed. It was a biggish parcel of 50,000 quintals tendered by Souberan and Co. at $10.40 to 10.50, and with this the total purchased from that firm runs to 73,000 quintals, worth $750,000 or ¼ of the whole amount voted by Congress for the Province. In the Southern colonies the linseed is all down, and wheat-sowing going on briskly. We were favoured last night with the very unwelcome news that, near Ceres on the line between Rosario and Santiago, immense clouds of locusts had settled on the flax fields, which had utterly polished off the young shoots already sprouted. The "mangas" were travelling due north to south. This is indeed tremendously bad news. Happily there is still time to resow.

Persons on the look-out for letters from Chile are hereby notified that the Transandine train which arrived at Mendoza last Wednesday from the Cordillera brought no letters. There is a storm in the Andes and it is raining at Mendoza.

When Congress ordered the sale of National lands to fill up the hole in the Mole or the deficit in the Budget the mistake was committed of entrusting to the National Lands Office the carriage of sale, as here we are on the eve of the sale, and parties interested in buying are at a loss how, when, or where to obtain data. Had Messrs Funes and Lagos, or Mackinlay Bros, or Bullrich been entrusted with the business, the whole market would know all about these lands, their adaptability for grazing or agricultural purposes, means of communication, neighbours, price, natural features etc. But the National Lands Office took the business in hand, and we may say that so little publicity has been given to it that people know more about Timbuctoo than the extensive area in the Pampa Central about to be offered. We cannot vouch for the fact, but it has been reported that plans and conditions were drawn up by the Office and sent "outside." Even this was a grave mistake. It is the experience of the market and the office itself that in all sales of outside lands, held up to the present, the buyers have invariably been residents in this city. Look at the map, turn to the outside lands, and what do you find? All the plots are marked off with the names of B. Ayres merchants, who, with faith in the country and its development, invest in its future. Instead, therefore, of sending out the plans and specifications to the sparsely populated Pampa, where the estancieros have probably taken up all the land they can handle, and where the precious plans will be chucked about te swelter on a medano or rot in a cañadon, they should have been handed round the city to the merchants and store-keepers, who might think it advisable to lay out their rainy-day savings in 4 league plots. The business has not been properly managed, and we doubt if there is now time to apply the corrective.

Advises from Salta report that Mr. Walter Klug of Tucuman is on the eve of starting a plantation of Paraguayan Yerba mate. The soil of Salta is, according to Mr. Klug, admirably suited to the cultivation of the plant

Camp and cattle in Azul are in splendid condition. A sale of steers is reported at $45 to 60 per head. All the animals are young and in prime condition. Thirty three dollars was paid the other day for a good lot of native bred steers. Business in this quarter of the Province is very slack indeed, paralysed in fact. Mr. Antonio Molinari of Bragado sold yesterday out there a chacra of 64 squares for $1717. This appears very cheap as the land is situated quite close to the town. Mr. Macaya was the buyer. The same auctioneer sold the same day thirty pigs at $10 per head.

The camps are in tip top condition. Heavy rain has fallen in Lincoln during the past week, improivng the appearance of cattle and camps, many estancieros are complaining against the raids of 'cuarteros' who appear to infest that part of the Province.

The new grain elevator of the Great Northern Railway Company, at Buffalo New York to hold 3,000,000 bushels, will be able to handle 500,000 bushels a day. The building will be 400 ft. long by 120 ft. wide and 160 ft. high, 7,000 tons of steel will be used in its construction and it will cost $400,000 gold. When shall we see something of this kind in the Plata?

A subscriber in San Pedro reports on good authority that the works in the port, the building of wharves, which the National Government proposed carrying out, will not be put in hands for the present.

There is a very large area of land in Pehuajo under cultivation. The camps are in good condition, and the colonists appear satisfied with their lot.

A sale of 1000 wethers in Ramallo is reported at $6.20 per head. These animals are for exportation.

Good steers are selling in Ayacucho at $30 to 50 per head. They are intended for "invernada."

We see by late telegrams from Chile that there is a very panicky feeling in that quarter over the bank failure and serious financial complications apprehended. The Government is sending forward to England 18 tons of silver in bars.

We congratulate Messrs Charles H. Krabbe of Krabbe, Riggins, and Co., and Mr. Crane of Toso. Crane, and Co., on having been named members of the Local Board of the Great Southern Railway Co., the Premier Argentine Railway, and one of the finest enterprises in the world. We hope in time to congratulate them on being named gilt-edged directors. Our readers are of course aware that Southern Railway stock figures in London as a gilt-edged security.

The only item of note in the bankruptcy court is the refusal of the Judge to grant Messrs Matto, Costa and Co. a moratorium. The firm has appealed, on the ground that of all the creditors to a total of over ¼ a million dollars, only one interested to extent of $3000 had opposed the application. There are no more failures reported.

There was about as much swing in gold at the second hour as there was in the morning, the price fluctuating between 294.80 and 295.10 to close at 294.90, a very minimum of oscillation. For dates there was next to nothing done, and but for to-morrow being a Saturday, with requirements for the weekly settlement, the business would have been a bagatelle. The stock board was almost a blank; some National G's were done at 84 and 83.90, Santa Fé Consols at 39, and Cataliuas at 7.70.

The following is a summary of the operations effected in stocks and shares at the second ring to-day:—

It is rumoured that a nucleus of shareholders of the Banco Constructor de la Plata are serious in proposing to-day before the next general meeting a proposal to remodel or reconstitute the bank with the capital of 3 millions and odd in real estate calculated to remain over after satisfaction of all claims. This idea is patently absurd, as it is not an auspicious moment to start anything, much less a bank on real estate, whilst the bank's real estate is so involved, pledged and contangoed and lawbitten that the first steps to be taken should be directed towards clearing off encumbrances. For this reason we do not think the proposal and the nucleus worth detailing. Even in madness there should be method.

THE VICTORIA SAILORS' HOME.

The Queen Victoria Commemoration Committee have begun sending aorward the circular published at foot. ot is an appeal to all British subjects, to fll descendants of Britishers, and to all sympathisers, to subscribe for the erection If a memorial to commemorate an unique event in British History, and that memorial is to take the shape of a Sailors' Home—there would be no nobler tribute to the sovereign who rules the waves than a refuge for the toilers of the sea. In the loyal, charitable, unsectarian object let all join hands and answer the appeal according to their respective means.

Apart from the great event that the Memorial will commemorate at the gates of our city, within hail of the docks—there is in this resolution of the British residents to build a Sailors' Home a breadth of view, a field of action, that silences all differences, and must weld all the elements of the community into one common aspiration to see the generous idea immediately carried out. We have no doubt that all will respond to the charitable call, and help in the cause.

The following is the circular sent out by the Committee to the British residents and descendants of Britishers in the Republic:—

Commemoration of the 60th Anniversary of Queen Victoria's Accession.

COMMITTEE:

Hon. W. A. C. Barrington, Chairman.

T. S. Boadle.	W. F. Mulhall.
F. W. Barrow.	J. F. Roberts.
Ronald Bridgett.	John Russell.
John Dunn.	R. Inglis Runciman.
John Drysdale.	H. C. Thompson.
Rev. J. W. Fleming.	Rymer O. Watson.
P. Ham.	W. Warden.
A. Mackintosh.	J. C. Zimmermann.
H. M. Mills.

At the meeting held in Prince George's Hall on 21st April, 1897, a Committee was appointed to consider various schemes proposed for the commemoration of the 60th anniversary of the accession to the throne of Her Majesty Queen Victoria.

The Committee submitted its report to a general meeting held on 6th May, 1897, and recommended the following :—

1.—A congratulatory telegram to the Queen, and a request to employers to give their employees a holiday.

2.—A free entertainment at the Circus for children.

3.—Performance of the opera "H. M. S. Pinafore."

4.—The erection of a Sailors' Home as a permanent memento of the event, to be handed over to the Sailors' Home Committee on completion.

These proposals were adopted. The above Committee has been appointed to carry them into effect, and it now appeals to those who sympathise with the object for subscriptions to the fund required for the purpose.

The land for the proposed Sailors' Home has been granted by Congress free of charge and for the erection and furnishing of the building it is estimated that a sum of about $80,000 will be required. Statistics submitted to the Committee relative to the working of the present Home (the rent of which is $300 per month) show that with a more suitable building, free of rent and properly equipped, the institution would be almost self-supporting, so that, while it will be a lasting memento of an event which is unique in the history of the British Empire, it is not likely that there will be an increased call on the annual subcribers for its maintenance. Appended will be found a few particulars of the work done by the present Home.

It would be very appropriate were the fund completed by the 22nd of June, and the Committee will feel obliged if you will kindly fill up the annexed form and send it with the amount of your subscription to the Hon. Treasurer, Mr. R. Inglis Runciman.

Subscriptions may be paid into the following Banks to the credit of "The Victoria Commemoration Fund," viz:—

The London & River Plate Bank.
The British Bank & South America.
The London & Brazilian Bank.
The Anglo-Argentine Bank.

William A. C. Barrington, Chairman.
J. W. Fleming, Secretary.

It is hoped that employers will, as far as possible, give their employees a holiday on the 22nd.

The Children's Special Circus Entertainment at the San Martin theatre will begin at 1 p.m. on the 22nd.

The performance will be over at 4 p.m.

A lengthy programme has been drawn up for out-door sports to be held on the 22nd on the cricket grounds at Palermo Park; the full details appear in another column.

The Pabellon Argentino in the Plaza San Martin has been engaged for the night of the 22nd for a popular Promenade Concert. Admission will be charged $1 m/n. As has already been widely intimated the pieces to be rendered will be patriotic in character. There will be an orchestra in the Hall and band in the gardens. There will be no addresses, but H. E. the Hon. W. A. C. Barrington will open the proceedings at 8.30 p.m. The programme will be published early next week.

Medals are being struck to commemorate the event. The medal will bear on one side a bust-portrait of Her Majesty with the dates 1837-1897 and the motto :—

Semper honor nomenque tuum laudesque manebunt.

On the reverse are the British and Argentine flags entwined with a laurel wreath and the abbreviation :—

The medal will be of silver, and size of a half-crown piece. It is being struck by the Mint, and will be sold at the rate of $5 m/n. These medals will be on sale on the 19th inst., at places which will be announced later on.

On the 8th of July, the Directors of the Prince George's Hall will give a ball with which the Committee will be officially associated.

Salvation Army Refuge.
Victoria Convalescent Home.

As the main purpose of the Committee is the erection of a Sailors' Home, they are providing for the entertainment at tea of British sailors in port at the present Sailors' Home.

In carrying out the above programme it is to be noted that the money subscribed for the Sailors' Home will be devoted to that purpose only.
